

1. Whoso desires to be saved must hold the universal faith;
who does not keep it pure and whole will perish at the final toll.

2. The universal faith is this:
worship the undivided bliss,
the unconfused Trinity and Trinity in unity.

3. The Father is a person, one, and so is Jesus Christ His Son, with Holy Spirit also wed and unified in one Godhead.

4. Their glory shared equally in coeternal majesty,
and uncreated, infinite,
yet neither is their glory split.

5. And so are they eternally, but they are not almighties three.
They each are God, to be adored;
still not three Lords but yet one Lord.

6. Just as we are, by Christian truth, compelled by God, so we refuse to utter any heresy or split in thirds the Trinity.

7. The Father was created not nor was by anyone begot;
so too the Son was never formed – Father-begotten He was born.

8. The Spirit from Them both proceeds but to Them does not glory cede, for none is greater, none is less,
but all are equal we confess.

9. This Trinity in unity has unity in Trinity.
All worship to Them we must give if we want to forever live.

10. And also we must not contest how God to us was manifest:
the Son of God came down to earth, became incarnate at His birth.

11. Lord Jesus Christ, the Son of God, whose name we honor and we laud, is fully God and fully man and lived before the world began.

12. Born of His mother in the crèche, composed of soul and human flesh;
equal to Father's deity
but less in His humanity.

13. Though God and man, He is not two –
He is one Christ, our master true.
His deity is not subdued;
His flesh is into God assumed.

14. He suffered for all mortal men, went down to hell and rose again, ascended to the Father's hand to judge the living and the damned.

15. He will return and we will plead a full account of all our deeds.
Those who did good shall heaven gain,
those who did not will die in flame.

16. This is the faith which we confess;
who does not faithfully express these truths cannot salvation win.
This is our creed, O Lord, Amen.
